§ 5676. Rules governing assignments of shares in such cases. When any share of the estate of a testator is assigned to a child born after the making of a will, or to a child, or the issue of a child, omitted in a will as hereinbefore mentioned, the same must first be taken from the estate not disposed of by the will if any; if that is not sufficient, so much as may be necessary must be taken from all the devisees or legatees in proportion to the value they may respectively receive under the will unless the obvious intention of the testator in relation to some specific devise or bequest or other provision in the will would thereby be defeated; in such case such specific devise, legacy or provision may be exempted from such apportionment and a different apportionment, consistent with the intention of the testator, may be adopted. § 5677. Take nothing under three last sections, when. If such children or their descendants so unprovided for had an equal proportion of the testator's estate bestowed on them in the testator's lifetime, by way of advancement, they take nothing by virtue of the provisions of the three preceding sections. [R. C. 1905, § 5121; Civ. C. 1877, § 715; R. C. 1899, § 3676.]

§ 5678. What devise of land conveys. Every devise of land in any will conveys all the estate of the devisor therein, which he could lawfully devise, unless it clearly appears by the will that he intended to convey a less estate. [R. C. 1905, § 5122; Civ. C. 1877, § 715; R. C. 1899, § 3677.]

§ 5679. Devisee's descendants take. When any estate is devised to any child or other relation of the testator and the devisee dies before the testator leaving lineal descendants, such descendants take the estate so given by the will in the same manner as the devisee would have done had he survived the testator. § 5680. When gift to witness void. All beneficial devises, legacies or gifts whatever made or given in any will to a subscribing witness thereto are void, unless there are two other competent subscribing witnesses to the same; but a mere charge on the estate of the testator for the payment of debts does not prevent his creditors from being competent witnesses to the will. [R. C. 1905, § 5124; Civ. C. 1877, § 717; R. C. 1899, § 3679.]

§ 5681. Witness takes if entitled to share in estate. If a witness to whom any beneficial devise, legacy or gift, void by the preceding section, is made, would have been entitled to any share of the estate of the testator, in case the will should not be established, he succeeds to so much of the share as would be distributed to him, not exceeding the devise or bequest made to him in the will, and he may recover the same of the other devisees or legatees

§ 5682. Subsequent incompetency of witness does not avoid will. If the subscribing witnesses to a will are competent at the time of attesting its execution, their subsequent incompetency, from whatever cause it may arise, does not prevent the probate and allowance of the will, if it is otherwise satisfactorily proved. [R. C. 1905, § 5126; Civ. C. 1877, § 718; R. C. 1899, § 3681.]

§ 5684. After-acquired property passes by will. Any estate, right or interest in lands acquired by the testator after the making of his will, passes thereby and in like manner as if title thereto was vested in him at the time of making the will, unless the contrary manifestly appears by the will to have been the intention of the testator. Every will made in express terms, devising or in any other terms, denoting the intent of the testator to devise, all the real estate of such testator passes all the real estate which such testator was entitled to devise at the time of his decease. extinguishes the obligation. [R. C. 1905, § 5272; Civ. C. 1877, § 862; R. C. 1899, § 3827.]

Part performance does not extinguish an obligation, unless accepted as such. Anderson v. Bank, 4 N. D. 182, 59 N. W. 1029.

Acceptance of amount to which party is clearly entitled does not constitute accord and satisfaction where there is no claim of facts showing satisfaction. Chrystal v. Gerlach, 25 S. D. 128, 125 N. W. 633.

A person insured is entitled to a return of the premium when the contract is voidable on account of the fraud or misrepresentation of the insurer or on account of facts of the existence of which the insured was ignorant without his fault; or when by any default of the insured other than actual fraud, the insurer never incurred any liability under the policy. § 6536. Same. When an over insurance is effected by successive policies, those only contribute to a return of the premium who are exonerated by prior insurances from the liability assumed by them and in proportion as the sum for which the premium was paid exceeds the amount for which on account of prior insurance they could be made liable. 1. In fire insurance each insurer must contribute ratably towards the loss without regard to the dates of the several policies.

2. In marine insurance the liability of the several insurers for a total loss, whether actual or constructive, when the policies are not simultaneous is in the order of the dates of the several policies, no liability attaching to a second or other subsequent policy, except as to the excess of the loss over the amount of all previous policies on the same interest. If two or more policies bear date upon the same day they are deemed to be simultaneous and the liability of insurers on simultaneous policies is to contribute ratably with each other. The insolvency of any of the insurers does not affect the proportionate liability of the other insurers. The liability of all insurers on the same marine interest for a partial or average loss is to contribute ratably. [R. C. 1905, § 5981; Civ. C. 1877, § 1558; R. C. 1899, § 4532.]

Insurer is entitled to such interpretation of clause making policy void because of increase of hazard occasioned by insured as will include mortgage placed upon property by insured. Lawver v. Globe Mut. Ins. Co., 25 S. D. 549, 127 N. W. 615.

Liability of successive insurers. 28 Am. Dec. 121.

ARTICLE 12.—REINSURANCE.

§ 6549. Defined. A contract of reinsurance is one by which an insurer procures a third person to insure him against loss or liability by reason of such original insurance. [R. C. 1905, § 5982; Civ. C. 1877, § 1559; R. C. 1899, § 4533.]

Liability of reinsurer. 8 L.R.A.(N.S.) 845; 44 L.R.A.(N.S.) 317.

§ 6550. Disclosures required. When an insurer obtains reinsurance he must communicate all the representations of the original insurer and also all the knowledge and information he possesses, whether previously or subsequently acquired, which is material to the risk. [R. C. 1905, § 5983; Civ. C. 1877, § 1560; R. C. 1899, § 4534.]

§ 6551. Contract of indemnity. A reinsurance is presumed to be a contract of indemnity against liability and not merely against damage. [R. C. 1905, § 5984; Civ. C. 1877, § 1561; R. C. 1899, § 4535.]

§ 6552. Original insured no interest. The original insured has no interest in a contract of reinsurance. [R. C. 1905, § 5985; Civ. C. 1877, § 1562; R. C. 1899, § 4536.]

MARINE INSURANCE.

- ARTICLE 1. DEFINITION OF MARINE INSURANCE, § 6553.
2. INSURABLE INTEREST, §§ 6554-6560.
 3. CONCEALMENT, §§ 6561-6564.
 4. REPRESENTATIONS, §§ 6565, 6566.
 5. IMPLIED WARRANTIES, §§ 6567-6574.
 6. THE VOYAGE AND DEVIATION, §§ 6575-6580.
 7. LOSS, §§ 6581-6591.
 8. ABANDONMENT, §§ 6592-6608.
 9. MEASURE OF INDEMNITY, §§ 6609-6619.

ARTICLE 1. DEFINITION OF MARINE INSURANCE.

§ 6553. Definition. Marine insurance is an insurance against risks connected with navigation to which a ship, cargo, freightage, profits or other insurable interest in movable property may be exposed during a certain voyage or a fixed period of time. [R. C. 1905, § 5986; Civ. C. 1877, § 1563; R. C. 1899, § 4537.]

ARTICLE 2.—INSURABLE INTEREST.

§ 6554. Owner always has. The owner of a ship has in all cases an insurable interest in it, even when it has been chartered by one who covenants to pay him its value in case of loss. [R. C. 1905, § 5987; Civ. C. 1877, § 1564; R. C. 1899, § 4538.]

§ 6555. Hypothecation reduces interest. The insurable interest of the owner of a ship hypothecated by bottomry is only the excess of its value over the amount secured by bottomry. [R. C. 1905, § 5988; Civ. C. 1877, § 1565; R. C. 1899, § 4539.]

§ 6557. Expected freightage. The owner of a ship has an insurable interest in expected freightage which he would have certainly earned but for the intervention of a peril insured against. [R. C. 1905, § 5990; Civ. C. 1877, § 1567; R. C. 1899, § 4541.]

§ 6558. Same. The interest mentioned in the last section exists, in the case of a charter party, when the ship has broken ground on the chartered voyage; and if the price is to be paid for the carriage of goods, when they are actually on board or there is some contract for putting them on board and both ship and goods are ready for the specified voyage. [R. C. 1905, § 5991; Civ. C. 1877, § 1568; R. C. 1899, § 4542.]

§ 6559. When profits insurable interest. One who has an interest in the thing from which profits are expected to proceed has an insurable interest in the profits. [R. C. 1905, § 5992; Civ. C. 1877, § 1569; R. C. 1899, § 4543.]

§ 6560. Charterer has. The charterer of a ship has an insurable interest in it to the extent that he is liable to be damnified by its loss. [R. C. 1905, § 5993; Civ. C. 1877, § 1570; R. C. 1899, § 4544.]

ARTICLE 3.—CONCEALMENT.

§ 6561. Disclosures more extensive. In marine insurance each party is bound to communicate in addition to what is required by section 6482 all the information which he possesses material to the risk, except such as is mentioned in section 6483 and to state the exact and whole truth in relation to all matters that he represents or upon inquiry assumes to disclose. [R. C. 1905, § 5994; Civ. C. 1877, § 1571; R. C. 1899, § 4545.]

§ 6562. Belief of another material. In marine insurance information of the belief or expectation of a third person in reference to a material fact is material. [R. C. 1905, § 5995; Civ. C. 1877, § 1572; R. C. 1899, § 4546.]

§ 6563. When knowledge of loss presumed. A person insured by a contract of marine insurance is presumed to have had knowledge at the time of insuring of a prior loss, if the information might possibly have reached him in the usual mode of transmission and at the usual rate of communication. [R. C. 1905, § 5996; Civ. C. 1877, § 1573; R. C. 1899, § 4547.]

§ 6564. What does not vitiate entire contract. A concealment in marine insurance in respect to any of the following matters does not vitiate the entire contract, but merely exonerates the insurer from a loss resulting from the risk concealed:

1. The national character of the insured.
2. The liability of the thing insured to capture and detention.
3. The liability to seizure from breach of foreign laws of trade.
4. The want of necessary documents; and,
5. The use of false and simulated papers. [R. C. 1905, § 5997; Civ. C. 1877, § 1574; R. C. 1899, § 4548.]

ARTICLE 4.—REPRESENTATIONS.

§ 6565. Rescission for false. If a representation by a person insured by contract of marine insurance is intentionally false in any respect, whether material or immaterial, the insurer may rescind the entire contract. [R. C. 1905, § 5998; Civ. C. 1877, § 1575; R. C. 1899, § 4549.]

§ 6566. Without fraud does not avoid. The eventual falsity of a representation as to expectation does not in the absence of fraud avoid a contract of insurance. [R. C. 1905, § 5999; Civ. C. 1877, § 1576; R. C. 1899, § 4550.]

ARTICLE 5.—IMPLIED WARRANTIES.

§ 6567. Seaworthiness. In every marine insurance upon a ship or freight, or freightage, or upon anything which is the subject of marine insurance a warranty is implied that the ship is seaworthy. [R. C. 1905, § 6000; Civ. C. 1877, § 1577; R. C. 1899, § 4551.]

What embraced in warranty of seamanship. 1 Am. Dec. 165; 33 Am. Dec. 33.

Implied warranty of seaworthiness. 58 Am. Dec. 671.

§ 6568. Seaworthy defined. A ship is seaworthy when reasonably fit to perform the services and to encounter the ordinary perils of the voyage contemplated by the parties to the policy. [R. C. 1905, § 6001; Civ. C. 1877, § 1578; R. C. 1899, § 4552.]

§ 6569. When foregoing warranty complied with. An implied warranty of seaworthiness is complied with if the ship is seaworthy at the time of the commencement of the risk, except in the following cases:

1. When the insurance is made for a specified length of time, the implied warranty is not complied with, unless the ship is seaworthy at the commencement of every voyage she may undertake during that time; and,
2. When the insurance is upon the cargo, which by the terms of the policy, or the description of the voyage or the established custom of the trade is to be transshipped at an intermediate port, the implied warranty is not complied with, unless each vessel upon which the cargo is shipped or transshipped is seaworthy at the commencement of its particular voyage. [R. C. 1905, § 6002; Civ. C. 1877, § 1579; R. C. 1899, § 4553.]

§ 6570. What seaworthiness includes. A warranty of seaworthiness extends not only to the structure of the ship itself, but requires that it be properly laden and provided with a competent master, a sufficient number of competent officers and seamen and the requisite appurtenances and equipments such as cables and anchors, food, fuel and lights and other necessary or proper stores and implements for the voyage. [R. C. 1905, § 6003; Civ. C. 1877, § 1580; R. C. 1899, § 4554.]

§ 6571. As to each part of voyage. When different portions of the voyage contemplated by a policy differ in respect to the things requisite to make the ship seaworthy therefor, a warranty of seaworthiness is complied with, if at the commencement of each portion the ship is seaworthy with reference to that portion. [R. C. 1905, § 6004; Civ. C. 1877, § 1581; R. C. 1899, § 4555.]

§ 6572. Delay in repairing exonerates. When a ship becomes unseaworthy during the voyage to which an insurance relates, an unreasonable delay in repairing the defect exonerates the insurer from liability from any loss arising therefrom. [R. C. 1905, § 6005; Civ. C. 1877, § 1582; R. C. 1899, § 4556.]

§ 6573. Seaworthy as to cargo. A ship which is seaworthy for the purpose of an insurance upon the ship may, nevertheless, by reason of being unfitted to receive the cargo be unseaworthy for the purpose of insurance upon the cargo. [R. C. 1905, § 6006; Civ. C. 1877, § 1583; R. C. 1899, § 4557.]

§ 6574. Neutral papers. When the nationality or neutrality of a ship or cargo is expressly warranted it is implied that the ship will carry the requisite documents to show such nationality or neutrality and that it will not carry any documents which cast reasonable suspicion thereon. [R. C. 1905, § 6007; Civ. C. 1877, § 1584; R. C. 1899, § 4558.]

ARTICLE 6.—THE VOYAGE AND DEVIATION.

§ 6575. Voyage fixed by mercantile usage. When the voyage contemplated by a policy is described by the places of beginning and ending, the voyage insured is one which conforms to the course from point to point fixed by mercantile usage between those places. [R. C. 1905, § 6008; Civ. C. 1877, § 1585; R. C. 1899, § 4559.]

§ 6576. When not so fixed. If the course of sailing is not fixed by mercantile usage, the voyage insured by a policy is the way between the places specified, which to a master of ordinary skill and discretion would seem the most natural, direct and advantageous. [R. C. 1905, § 6009; Civ. C. 1877, § 1586; R. C. 1899, § 4560.]

§ 6577. Deviation defined. Deviation is a departure from the course of the voyage insured mentioned in the last two sections, or an unreasonable delay in pursuing the voyage; or the commencement of an entirely different voyage. [R. C. 1905, § 6010; Civ. C. 1877, § 1587; R. C. 1899, § 4561.]

Effect of deviation by necessity upon policy. 58 Am. Dec. 673.

What is and effect of deviation of vessel. 33 Am. Dec. 60.

§ 6578. When proper. A deviation is proper:

1. When caused by circumstances over which neither the master nor the owner of the ship has any control.
2. When necessary to comply with a warranty or to avoid a peril, whether insured against or not.
3. When made in good faith and upon reasonable grounds of belief in its necessity to avoid a peril; or,
4. When made in good faith for the purpose of saving human life or relieving another vessel in distress. [R. C. 1905, § 6011; Civ. C. 1877, § 1588; R. C. 1899, § 4562.]

§ 6579. Improper. Every deviation not specified in the last section is improper. [R. C. 1905, § 6012; Civ. C. 1877, § 1589; R. C. 1899, § 4563.]

§ 6580. Insurer not liable after. An insurer is not liable for any loss happening to a thing insured subsequently to an improper deviation. [R. C. 1905, § 6013; Civ. C. 1877, § 1590; R. C. 1899, § 4564.]

ARTICLE 7.—LOSS.

§ 6581. Classified. A loss may be either total or partial. [R. C. 1905, § 6014; Civ. C. 1877, § 1591; R. C. 1899, § 4565.]

Liability of marine insurer for loss caused by explosion. 19 L.R.A. 594; 38 L.R.A.(N.S.) 474.

Effect of navigating in forbidden waters in case of loss within waters covered by policy. 10 L.R.A.(N.S.) 742.

Retention of policy as waiver of mistake or fraud of insurer or its agent as to voyage covered by marine policy. 67 L.R.A. 723.

Effect of voluntary exposure to peril upon liability on marine insurance policy. 1 L.R.A.(N.S.) 1095.

When goods stowed on deck and jettisoned are covered by policy. 86 Am. Dec. 500.

Liability for injuries caused by another vessel through collision with the insured vessel. 54 Am. Dec. 787.

Loss due to neglect to employ a pilot. 33 Am. Dec. 599.

§ 6582. Partial. Every loss which is not total is partial. [R. C. 1905, § 6015; Civ. C. 1877, § 1592; R. C. 1899, § 4566.]

§ 6583. Total loss classified. A total loss may be either actual or constructive. [R. C. 1905, § 6016; Civ. C. 1877, § 1593; R. C. 1899, § 4567.]

§ 6584. Actual total. An actual total loss is caused by:

1. A total destruction of the thing insured.
2. The loss of the thing by sinking or by being broken up.
3. Any damage to the thing which renders it valueless to the owner for the purposes for which he held it; or,
4. Any other event which entirely deprives the owner of the possession at the port of destination of the thing insured. [R. C. 1905, § 6017; Civ. C. 1877, § 1594; R. C. 1899, § 4568.]

§ 6585. Constructive total. A constructive total loss is one which gives to a person insured a right to abandon under section 6593. [R. C. 1905, § 6018; Civ. C. 1877, § 1595; R. C. 1895, § 4569.]

§ 6586. When actual loss presumed. An actual loss may be presumed from the continued absence of a ship without being heard of; and the length of time which is sufficient to raise this presumption depends on the circumstances of the case. [R. C. 1905, § 6019; Civ. C. 1877, § 1596; R. C. 1899, § 4570.]

§ 6587. Duty to procure another ship for cargo. When a ship is prevented at an intermediate port from completing the voyage by the perils insured against, the master must make every exertion to procure in the same or a contiguous port another ship for the purpose of conveying the cargo to its destination and the liability of a marine insurer thereon continues after they are thus reshipped. [R. C. 1905, § 6020; Civ. C. 1877, § 1597; R. C. 1899, § 4571.]

§ 6588. Liable for cost of reshipment. In addition to the liability mentioned in the last section a marine insurer is bound for damages, expenses of discharging, storage, reshipment, extra freightage and all other expenses incurred in saving the cargo reshipped pursuant to the last section up to the amount insured. [R. C. 1905, § 6021; Civ. C. 1877, § 1598; R. C. 1899, § 4572.]

Right to recover under "sue and labor" clause in policy of marine insurance, for moving cargo overland. 14 L.R.A.(N.S.) 1161.

§ 6589. Payment without notice. Upon an actual total loss a person insured is entitled to payment without notice of abandonment. [R. C. 1905, § 6022; Civ. C. 1877, § 1599; R. C. 1899, § 4573.]

§ 6590. General average loss. When it has been agreed that an insurance upon a particular thing or class of things shall be free from particular average a marine insurer is not liable for any particular average loss not depriving the insured of the possession at the port of destination of the whole of such thing or class of things, even though it becomes entirely worthless; but he is liable for his proportion of all general average loss assessed upon the thing insured. [R. C. 1905, § 6023; Civ. C. 1877, § 1600; R. C. 1899, § 4574.]

§ 6591. What against actual total loss covers. An insurance confined in terms to an actual total loss does not cover a constructive total loss, but covers any loss which necessarily results in depriving the insured of the possession at the port of destination of the entire thing insured. [R. C. 1905, § 6024; Civ. C. 1877, § 1601; R. C. 1899, § 4575.]

ARTICLE 8.—ABANDONMENT.

§ 6592. Defined. Abandonment is the act by which after a constructive total loss a person insured by a contract of marine insurance declares to the insurer that he relinquishes to him his interest in the thing insured. [R. C. 1905, § 6025; Civ. C. 1877, § 1602; R. C. 1899, § 4576.]

§ 6593. When authorized. A person insured by a contract of marine insurance may abandon the thing insured, or any particular portion thereof, separately valued by the policy, or otherwise separately insured and recover for a total loss thereof when the cause of the loss is a peril insured against:

1. If more than half thereof in value is actually lost or would have to be expended to recover it from the peril.

2. If it is injured to such an extent as to reduce its value more than one-half.

3. If the thing insured, being a ship, the contemplated voyage cannot be lawfully performed without incurring an expense to the insured of more than half the value of the thing abandoned, or without incurring a risk which a prudent man would not take under the circumstances; or,

4. If, the thing insured being cargo and freightage, the voyage cannot be performed nor another ship procured by the master within a reasonable time and with reasonable diligence to forward the cargo without incurring the like expenses or risk. But freightage cannot in any case be abandoned unless the ship is also abandoned. [R. C. 1905, § 6026; Civ. C. 1877, § 1603; R. C. 1899, § 4577.]

§ 6594. Must be absolute. An abandonment must be neither partial nor conditional. [R. C. 1905, § 6027; Civ. C. 1877, § 1604; R. C. 1899, § 4578.]

§ 6595. When made. An abandonment must be made within a reasonable time after information of the loss and after the commencement of the voyage and before the party abandoning has information of its completion. [R. C. 1905, § 6028; Civ. C. 1877, § 1605; R. C. 1899, § 4579.]

§ 6596. When becomes ineffectual. When the information upon which an abandonment has been made proves incorrect or the thing insured was so far restored when the abandonment was made that there was then in fact no total loss, the abandonment becomes ineffectual. [R. C. 1905, § 6029; Civ. C. 1877, § 1606; R. C. 1899, § 4580.]

§ 6597. Made by written notice. Abandonment is made by giving notice thereof to the insurer which may be done orally or in writing. [R. C. 1905, § 6030; Civ. C. 1877, § 1607; R. C. 1899, § 4581.]

§ 6598. Requisites of notice. A notice of abandonment must be explicit and must specify the particular cause of the abandonment; but need state only enough to show that there is probable cause therefor and need not be accompanied with proof of interest or of loss. [R. C. 1905, § 6031; Civ. C. 1877, § 1608; R. C. 1899, § 4582.]

§ 6599. Sustained only on cause specified. An abandonment can be sustained only upon the cause specified in the notice thereof. [R. C. 1905, § 6032; Civ. C. 1877, § 1609; R. C. 1899, § 4583.]

§ 6600. Equivalent to transfer. An abandonment is equivalent to a transfer by the insured of his interest to the insurer with all the chances of recovery and indemnity. [R. C. 1905, § 6033; Civ. C. 1877, § 1610; R. C. 1899, § 4584.]

§ 6601. Payment entitles insurer to salvage. If a marine insurer pays for a loss as if it was an actual total loss, he is entitled to whatever may remain of the thing insured or its proceeds or salvage as if there had been a formal abandonment. [R. C. 1905, § 6034; Civ. C. 1877, § 1611; R. C. 1899, § 4585.]

§ 6602. Insured's agents become insurer's on abandonment. Upon an abandonment acts done in good faith by those who were agents of the insured in respect to the thing insured subsequent to the loss are at the risk of the insurer and for his benefit. [R. C. 1905, § 6035; Civ. C. 1877, § 1612; R. C. 1899, § 4586.]

§ 6603. Acceptance of unnecessary. An acceptance of an abandonment is not necessary to the rights of the insured and is not to be presumed from the mere silence of the insurer upon his receiving notice of abandonment. [R. C. 1905, § 6036; Civ. C. 1877, § 1613; R. C. 1899, § 4587.]

§ 6604. Acceptance conclusive. The acceptance of an abandonment, whether express or implied, is conclusive upon the parties and admits the loss and sufficiency of the abandonment. [R. C. 1905, § 6037; Civ. C. 1877, § 1614; R. C. 1899, § 4588.]

§ 6605. Accepted is irrevocable. An abandonment once made and accepted is irrevocable, unless the ground upon which it was made proves to be unfounded. [R. C. 1905, § 6038; Civ. C. 1877, § 1615; R. C. 1899, § 4589.]

§ 6606. To whom freightage belongs after. On an accepted abandonment of a ship freightage earned previous to the loss belongs to the insurer thereof; but freightage subsequently earned belongs to the insurer of the ship. [R. C. 1905, § 6039; Civ. C. 1877, § 1616; R. C. 1899, § 4590.]

§ 6607. Refusal to accept. If an insurer refuses to accept a valid abandonment, he is liable as upon an actual total loss, deducting from the amount any proceeds of the thing insured which may have come to the hands of the insured. [R. C. 1905, § 6040; Civ. C. 1877, § 1617; R. C. 1899, § 4591.]

§ 6608. Rights, if abandonment omitted. If a person insured omits to abandon he may, nevertheless, recover his actual loss. [R. C. 1905, § 6041; Civ. C. 1877, § 1618; R. C. 1899, § 4592.]

ARTICLE 9.—MEASURE OF INDEMNITY.

§ 6609. Valuation conclusive between parties. A valuation in a policy of marine insurance is conclusive between the parties thereto in the adjustment of either a partial or total loss, if the insured has some interest at risk and there is no fraud on his part; except that when a thing has been hypothecated by bottomry or respondentia before its insurance and without the knowledge of the person actually procuring the insurance, he may show the real value. But a valuation fraudulent in fact entitles the insurer to rescind the contract. [R. C. 1905, § 6042; Civ. C. 1877, § 1619; R. C. 1899, § 4593.]

§ 6610. Partial loss. Liability. A marine insurer is liable upon a partial loss only for such proportion of the amount insured by him as the loss bears to the value of the whole interest of the insured in the property insured. [R. C. 1905, § 6043; Civ. C. 1877, § 1620; R. C. 1899, § 4594.]

§ 6611. Recovery of profits, how estimated. When profits are separately insured in a contract of marine insurance, the insured is entitled to recover in case of loss a proportion of such profits equivalent to the proportion which the value of the property lost bears to the value of the whole. [R. C. 1905, § 6044; Civ. C. 1877, § 1621; R. C. 1899, § 4595.]

§ 6612. How loss determined on valued policy. In case of a valued policy of marine insurance on freightage or cargo, if a part only of the subject is exposed to risk the valuation applies only in proportion to such part. [R. C. 1905, § 6045; Civ. C. 1877, § 1622; R. C. 1899, § 4596.]

§ 6613. When loss of profits presumed. When profits are valued and insured by a contract of marine insurance, a loss of them is conclusively presumed from a loss of the property out of which they were expected to arise and the valuation fixes their amount. [R. C. 1905, § 6046; Civ. C. 1877, § 1623; R. C. 1899, § 4597.]

§ 6614. How loss on open policy estimated. In estimating a loss under an open policy of marine insurance the following rules are to be observed:

1. The value of a ship is its value at the beginning of the risk including all articles or charges which add to its permanent value or which are necessary to prepare it for the voyage insured.

2. The value of the cargo is its actual cost to the insured, when laden on board or when that cost cannot be ascertained, its market value at the time and place of lading, adding the charges incurred in purchasing and placing it on board, but without reference to any losses incurred in raising money for its purchase, or to any drawback on its exportation, or to the fluctuations of the market at the port of destination, or of expenses incurred on the way or on arrival.

3. The value of freightage is the gross freightage, exclusive of primage, without reference to the cost of earning it; and,

4. The cost of insurance is in each case to be added to the value thus estimated. [R. C. 1905, § 6047; Civ. C. 1877, § 1624; R. C. 1899, § 4598.]

§ 6615. How partial loss of cargo estimated. If a cargo insured against partial loss arrives at the port of destination in a damaged condition, the loss of the insured is deemed to be the same proportion of the value, which the market price at that port of the thing so damaged bears to the market price it would have brought if sound. [R. C. 1905, § 6048; Civ. C. 1877, § 1625; R. C. 1899, § 4599.]

§ 6616. Liability for repairs and labor to recover. A marine insurer is liable for all the expenses attendant upon a loss which forces a ship into port to be repaired; and when it is agreed that the insured may labor for the recovery of the property the insurer is liable for the expense incurred thereby; such expense in either case being in addition to the total loss, if that afterward occurs. [R. C. 1905, § 6049; Civ. C. 1877, § 1626; R. C. 1899, § 4600.]

§ 6617. Liability for insured's contribution to general average. A marine insurer is liable for a loss falling upon the insured through a contribution in respect to the thing insured, required to be made by him toward a general average loss called for by a peril insured against. [R. C. 1905, § 6050; Civ. C. 1877, § 1627; R. C. 1899, § 4601.]

§ 6618. Subrogation of right to contribution. When a person insured by a contract of marine insurance has a demand against others for contribution he may claim the whole loss from the insurer, subrogating him to his own right to contribution. But no such claim can be made upon the insurer after the separation of the interests liable to contribution, nor when the insured, having the right and opportunity to enforce contribution from others, has neglected or waived the exercise of that right. [R. C. 1905, § 6051; Civ. C. 1877, § 1628; R. C. 1899, § 4602.]

§ 6619. Liability for partial loss of ship. In the case of a partial loss of a ship or its equipment the old materials are to be applied toward payment for the new and whether the ship is new or old a marine insurer is liable for only two-thirds of the remaining cost of the repairs, except that he must pay for anchors and cannon in full and for sheathing metal at a depreciation of only two and one-half per cent for each month that it has been fastened to the ship. [R. C. 1905, § 6052; Civ. C. 1877, § 1629; R. C. 1899, § 4603.]

CHAPTER 79.

FIRE INSURANCE.

§ 6620. Rescission for alteration in use increasing risk. An alteration in the use or condition of a thing insured from that to which it is limited by the policy, made without the consent of the insurer, by means within the control of the insured and increasing the risk entitles an insurer to rescind a contract of fire insurance. [R. C. 1905, § 6053; Civ. C. 1877, § 1630; R. C. 1899, § 4604.]

As to similar provision in Cal. Civ. Code, § 2753, see Slinkard v. Manchester Fire Assur. Co., 122 Cal. 595, 55 Pac. 417.

§ 6621. Not if risk not increased. An alteration in the use or condition of a thing insured from that to which it is limited by the policy, which does not increase the risk, does not affect a contract of fire insurance. [R. C. 1905, § 6054; Civ. C. 1877, § 1631; R. C. 1899, § 4605.]

As to similar provision in Cal. Civ. Code, § 2754, see Slinkard v. Manchester Fire Assur. Co., 122 Cal. 595, 55 Pac. 417.

§ 6622. When contract unaffected, though risk increased. A contract of fire insurance is not affected by any act of the insured subsequent to the execution of the policy, which does not violate its provisions, even though it increases the risk and is the cause of a loss. [R. C. 1905, § 6055; Civ. C. 1877, § 1632; R. C. 1899, § 4606.]

§ 6623. Measure of indemnity. If there is no valuation in the policy, the measure of indemnity in an insurance against fire is the full amount stated in the policy; but the effect of a valuation in a policy of fire insurance is the same as in a policy of marine insurance. [R. C. 1905, § 6056; Civ. C. 1877, § 1633; R. C. 1899, § 4607.]

§ 6624. Face of policy to be paid in case of loss. Whenever any policy of insurance shall be written to insure any real property in this state against loss by fire and that property insured shall be destroyed without fraud on the part of the insured or his assigns, the stated amount of the insurance written in such policy shall be taken conclusively to be the true value of the property insured. [1907, ch. 158.]

§ 6625. Standard policy. No fire insurance company, corporation or association, their officers or agents, shall make, issue, use or deliver for use any fire insurance policy or renewal of any fire policy on property in this state other than such as shall conform in all particulars as to blanks, size of type, context, provisions, agreements and conditions with the printed form of contract or policy heretofore filed in the office of the commissioner of insurance as a

3. A company, corporation or association organized or incorporated under and in pursuance of the laws of this state or elsewhere, if entitled to do business in this state, may with the approval of the commissioner of insurance, if the same is not already included in the standard form as filed in the office of the commissioner of insurance, print on its policies any provision which it is required by law to insert therein, if such provision is not in conflict with the laws of this state or the United States, or of the provisions of the standard form provided for herein, but said provision shall be printed apart from the other provisions, agreements or conditions of the policy and in type not smaller than the body of the policy and under a separate title, as follows: "Provisions required by law to be stated in this policy" and be a part of said policy.

And in the printed conditions of such policy the necessary change may be made from the singular to the plural number, when reference is had to the companies issuing such policies. [R. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured and the insured shall not have designated a new beneficiary the interest of such beneficiary shall be payable to the insured (insert " his " or " her "), executors, administrators or assigns.

A grace of one month, subject to any interest charge at the rate of per centum per annum, shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which month the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the month of grace, the overdue premiums will be deducted from any amount payable hereon in any settlement hereunder.

Conditions. (The policy may here provide for restrictions of liability by reason of travel, occupation, change of residence and suicide. These restrictions, such as refer to military and naval services in time of war, must be applicable only to cases where the act of the insured provided against occurs within two years after the issuance of the policy.)

Incontestability. The policy constitutes the entire contract between the parties and shall be incontestable from its date, except for nonpayments of premiums and except as otherwise provided in this policy. All statements made by the insured shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy, unless it is contained in written application and a copy of such application shall be indorsed upon or attached to this policy when issued. If the age of the insured has been understated the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

Participation. This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company and beginning not later than the end of the (insert first, second or third) policy year, the company will annually determine and account for the portion of the divisible surplus accruing hereon.

Dividends. Dividends at the option of the owner of this policy shall on the day of of each year (here may be inserted "after the first policy year" or "after the second policy year") be either:

1. Paid in cash, or,
2. Applied toward payment of any premium or premiums, or,
3. Applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy, or,
4. Left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at (here insert a rate not exceeding that used by the company for calculating its reserves) per centum per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable at the anniversary of the policy.

Unless the owner of the policy shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring such election the dividends shall be paid in cash.

Loans. After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company at any time, while this policy is in force, will advance, on proper assignment of this policy, and on the sole security thereof at a rate of interest not greater than per centum per annum, which interest if not paid annually shall be added to the principal and bear the same rate of interest, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner of the policy, less than the reserve at the end of the current policy year on this policy and on any dividend additions thereto, computed according to the (designate mortality table adopted by the company for computing reserve) mortality table and interest at the rate of (designate rate of interest adopted by the company for computing reserves) per centum per annum, less (here may be inserted not more than two and one-half) per centum of the amount insured by this policy and of the dividend additions thereto.

The company, however, will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year. Such loan may be deferred by the company for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not void this policy, unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall be equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure and until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any. No condition other than as herein provided shall be exacted as a prerequisite to any such advance.

Assignment. No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it be filed with the company at its said home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

Option of Surrender or Lapse. After this policy shall have been in force three years the owner, within one month after any default, may elect (a) to accept the value of this policy in cash, or, (b) to have the insurance continued in force from date of default, without future participation and without the right to loan, for its face amount, including any outstanding dividend additions, less any indebtedness to the company thereon, or, (c) to purchase non-participating paid-up insurance payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy.

The cash value will be the reserve at the date of default on this policy and on any dividend additions thereto, computed according to the (designate mortality table adopted by the company for computing reserves) mortality table and interest at the rate of (designate rate of interest adopted by the company for computing reserves) per centum per annum, less (here may be inserted not more than two and one-half) per centum of the amount insured by this policy and of any dividend additions thereto, and less any existing indebtedness to the company on this policy. Payment of such cash value may be deferred by the company for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made. The term for which the insurance will be continued or the amount of the paid-up policy will be such as the cash value will purchase as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured according to the (designate the mortality table adopted by the company for computing reserves) mortality table and interest at the rate of (designate rate of interest adopted by the company for computing reserves) per centum per annum. If the owner shall not, within one month from default, surrender this policy to the company at its home office for a cash surrender value or for paid-up insurance as provided in options (a) and (c) the insurance will be continued as provided in option (b).

The figures in the following table are computed in accordance with the above provisions and upon the assumption that there is no indebtedness on the policy, and that there are no outstanding dividend additions.

(At the option of the company the following may be here inserted: "The figures apply to a policy for $1,000. As this contract is for $, the loan, cash or paid insurance available in any year will be $, the amount stated in the table for that year: ")

Reinstatement. In case of continued temporary insurance under the above provisions this policy upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company may be reinstated within the first three years of the term for which the insurance is continued by payment of arrears of premiums with interest at (here insert not more than six) per centum per annum.

Options at Maturity. The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy paid either in cash or as follows:

1. By the payment of interest thereon at per centum per annum payable annually, to the payee under this policy at the end of each year

Unless otherwise specified by the insured the payee may on any interest date receive the amount yet due under option one, and may at any time receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as option two in the following table, provided that no such commutation will be made under three, except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

Such loan may be deferred by the company for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not void this policy, unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure and until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

of such cash value may be deferred by the company for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made.

The term for which the insurance will be continued or the amount of the paid-up policy will be such as the cash value will purchase as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured, according to the (designate the mortality table adopted by the company for computing reserves) mortality table and interest at the rate of (designate rate of interest adopted by the company for computing reserves) per centum per annum. If the sum applicable to the purchase of temporary insurance shall be more than sufficient to continue the insurance to the end of the endowment term named in this policy the excess shall be used to purchase in the same manner nonparticipating paid-up pure endowment, payable at the end of the endowment term and on the same conditions. § 6653. Consideration for. When a guaranty is entered into at the same time with the original obligation or with the acceptance of the latter by the guarantee and forms with that obligation a part of the consideration to him, no other consideration need exist. In all other cases there must be a consideration distinct from that of the original obligation. [R. C. 1905, § 6077; Civ. C. 1877, § 1651; R. C. 1899, § 4627.]

3. When the promise, being for an antecedent obligation of another, is made upon the consideration that the party receiving it cancels the antecedent obligation, accepting the new promise as a substitute therefor; or upon the consideration that the party receiving it releases the property of another from a levy or his person from imprisonment under an execution on a judgment obtained upon the antecedent obligation; or upon a consideration beneficial to the promisor, whether moving from either party to the antecedent obligation or from another person.

4. When a factor undertakes for a commission to sell merchandise and guarantee the sale.

ARTICLE 3.—INTERPRETATION OF GUARANTY.

§ 6657. Of contract, what implied. [R. C. 1905, § 6081; Civ. C. 1877, § 1655; R. C. 1899, § 4631.]

[R. C. 1905, § 6083; Civ. C. 1877, § 1657; R. C. 1899, § 4633.]

In the cases mentioned in section 6658, the removal of the principal from the state leaving no property therein from which the obligation might be satisfied is equivalent to the insolvency of the principal in its effect upon the rights and obligations of the guarantor. [R. C. 1905, § 6084; Civ. C. 1877, § 1658; R. C. 1899, § 4634.]

ARTICLE 4.—LIABILITY OF GUARANTORS.

CHAPTER 89.

BOTTOMRY.

§ 6796. Defined. Bottomry is a contract by which a ship or its freightage is hypothecated as security for a loan, which is to be repaid only in case the ship survives a particular risk, voyage or period. [R. C. 1905, § 6219; Civ. C. 1877, § 1783; R. C. 1899, § 4770.]

§ 6797. Hypothecation by owner of ship. The owner of a ship may hypothecate it or its freightage upon bottomry for any lawful purpose and at any time and place. [R. C. 1905, § 6220; Civ. C. 1877, § 1784; R. C. 1899, § 4771.]

§ 6798. By master for what only. The master of a ship may hypothecate it upon bottomry only for the purpose of procuring repairs or supplies which are necessary for accomplishing the objects of the voyage or for securing the safety of the ship. [R. C. 1905, § 6221; Civ. C. 1877, § 1785; R. C. 1899, § 4772.]

§ 6799. Same; when only. The master of a ship can hypothecate it upon bottomry only, when he cannot otherwise relieve the necessities of the ship and is unable to reach adequate funds of the owner or to obtain any upon the personal credit of the owner and when previous communication with him is precluded by the urgent necessity of the case. [R. C. 1905, § 6222; Civ. C. 1877, § 1786; R. C. 1899, § 4773.]

§ 6800. Hypothecation of freightage by master. The master of a ship may hypothecate freightage upon bottomry under the same circumstances as those which authorize an hypothecation of the ship by him. [R. C. 1905, § 6223; Civ. C. 1877, § 1787; R. C. 1899, § 4774.]

§ 6801. Interest higher than legal rate. Upon a contract of bottomry the parties may lawfully stipulate for a rate of interest higher than that allowed by the law upon other contracts. But a competent court may reduce the rate stipulated when it appears unjustifiable and exorbitant. [R. C. 1905, § 6224; Civ. C. 1877, § 1788; R. C. 1899, § 4775.]

§ 6802. When enforceable, though unauthorized. A lender upon a contract of bottomry made by the master of a ship as such may enforce the contract though the circumstances necessary to authorize the master to hypothecate the ship did not in fact exist, if after due diligence and inquiry the lender had reasonable grounds to believe and did in good faith believe in the existence of such circumstances. [R. C. 1905, § 6225; Civ. C. 1877, § 1789; R. C. 1899, § 4776.]

§ 6804. Recovery in case of loss. In case of a total loss of the thing hypothecated from a risk to which the loan was subject the lender upon bottomry can recover nothing; in case of a partial loss he can recover only to the extent of the net value to the owner of the part saved. [R. C. 1905, § 6227; Civ. C. 1877, § 1791; R. C. 1899, § 4778.]

§ 6805. When loan due. Unless it is otherwise expressly agreed a bottomry loan becomes due immediately upon the termination of the risk, although a term of credit is specified in the contract. [R. C. 1905, § 6228; Civ. C. 1877, § 1792; R. C. 1899, § 4779.]

§ 6806. Lien lost by delay in enforcing. A bottomry lien is independent of possession and is lost by omission to enforce it within a reasonable time. [R. C. 1905, § 6229; Civ. C. 1877, § 1793; R. C. 1899, § 4780.]

§ 6807. Preferred to all liens except what. A bottomry lien, if created out of a real or apparent necessity in good faith, is preferred to every other lien or claim upon the same thing, excepting only a lien for seamen's wages, a subsequent lien of material men for supplies or repairs indispensable to the safety of the ship and a subsequent lien for salvage. [R. C. 1905, § 6230; Civ. C. 1877, § 1794; R. C. 1899, § 4781.]

§ 6808. When last preferred. Of two or more bottomry liens on the same subject the latter in date has preference if created out of necessity. [R. C. 1905, § 6231; Civ. C. 1877, § 1795; R. C. 1899, § 4782.]

CHAPTER 90.

§ 6811. When master may. The master of a ship may hypothecate its cargo upon respondentia only in a case in which he would be authorized to hypothecate the ship and freightage, but is unable to borrow sufficient money thereon for repairs or supplies, which are necessary for the successful accomplishment of the voyage; and he cannot do so even in such case if there is no reasonable prospect of benefiting the cargo thereby. [R. C. 1905, § 6234; Civ. C. 1877, § 1798; R. C. 1899, § 4785.]

§ 6812. Other sections applicable. The provisions of sections 6801 to 6808 apply equally to loans on respondentia. [R. C. 1905, § 6235; Civ. C. 1877, § 1799; R. C. 1899, § 4786.]

§ 6813. Owner of ship must repay owner of cargo. The owner of a ship is bound to repay the owner of its cargo all which the latter is compelled to pay under a contract of respondentia made by the master in order to discharge its lien. such contractor or subcontractor. The owner shall be presumed to have consented to the furnishing of such labor or material or machinery or fixtures if at the time, he had knowledge thereof and did not give notice of his objections thereto to the person entitled to such lien. The provisions of this chapter shall not be construed to apply to claims or contracts for lightning rods or any of their attachments. [1911, ch. 187; 1909, ch. 158; R. § 6888. Unqualified order or promise to pay. An unqualified order or promise to pay is unconditional within the meaning of this chapter, though coupled with:

1. An indication of a particular fund out of which reimbursement is to be made, or a particular account to be debited with the amount; or

2. A statement of the transaction which gives rise to the instrument.

But an order or promise to pay out of a particular fund is not conditional. [R. C. 1905, § 6305; 1899, ch. 113, § 3.]

Negotiability of note payable out of particular fund. 35 L.R.A. 647; 3 L.R.A.(N.S.) 231.

§ 6889. Payable at determinable future time. An instrument is payable at a determinable future time, within the meaning of this chapter, which is expressed to be payable:

1. At a fixed period after date or sight; or

2. On or before a fixed or determinable future time specified therein; or

3. On or at a fixed period after the occurrence of a specified event, which is certain to happen, though the time of happening be uncertain.

An instrument payable upon a contingency is not negotiable, and the happening of the event does not cure the defect. [R. C. 1905, § 6306; 1899, ch. 113, § 4.]

2. Note payable on or before certain date is regarded as payable on date named. State ex rel. Bithulitic & Contracting Co. v. Murphy, 20 N. D. 427, 128 N. W. 303.

Negotiability of note payment of which depends on termination of life. 27 L.R.A.(N.S.) 1017.

§ 6890. When not negotiable. An instrument which contains an order or promise to do any act in addition to the payment of money is not negotiable. But the negotiable character of an instrument otherwise negotiable is not affected by a provision which:

1. Authorizes the sale of collateral securities in case the instrument be not paid at maturity; or

2. Authorizes a confession of judgment if the instrument be not paid at maturity; or

3. Waives the benefit of any law intended for the advantage or protection of the obligor; or

4. Gives the holder an election to require something to be done in lieu of payment of money.

But nothing in this section shall validate any provision or stipulation otherwise illegal. [R. C. 1905, § 6307; 1899, ch. 113, § 5.]

1. Recital in note as to security as affecting negotiability. 32 L.R.A.(N.S.) 858.

§ 6891. Validity and negotiable character. The validity and negotiable character of an instrument are not affected by the fact that:

1. It is not dated; or

2. Does not specify the value given, or that any value has been given therefor; or

3. Does not specify the place where it is drawn or the place where it is payable; or

4. Bears a seal; or

5. Designates a particular kind of current money in which payment is to be made.

But nothing in this section shall alter or repeal any statute requiring in certain cases the nature of the consideration to be stated in the instrument. [R. C. 1905, § 6308; 1899, ch. 113, § 6.]

Reservation of title of property as affecting negotiability of note for purchase price. 43 L.R.A. 277; 43 L.R.A.(N.S.) 945.

Reference to extrinsic agreement as affecting negotiability. 30 L.R.A.(N.S.) 40.

§ 6892. Payable on demand. An instrument is payable on demand:

1. Where it is expressed to be payable on demand, or at sight, or on presentation; or

2. In which no time for payment is expressed.

Where an instrument is issued, accepted or indorsed when overdue, it is, as regards the person so issuing, accepting or indorsing it, payable on demand. [R. C. 1905, § 6309; 1899, ch. 113, § 7.]

As to negotiability of instrument in which no time for payment is expressed. First Nat. Bank v. Buttery, 17 N. D. 326, 16 L.R.A.(N.S.) 878, 116 N. W. 341, 17 A. & E. Ann. Cas. 52.

§ 6893. Payable to order. The instrument is payable to order where it is drawn payable to the order of a specified person or to him or his order. It may be drawn payable to the order of:

1. A payee who is not maker, drawer or drawee; or
2. The drawee or maker; or
3. The drawee; or
4. Two or more payees jointly; or
5. One or some of several payees; or
6. The holder of an office for the time being.

Where the instrument is payable to order the payee must be named or otherwise indicated therein with reasonable certainty. [R. C. 1905, § 6310; 1899, ch. 113, § 8.]

§ 6894. Payable to bearer. The instrument is payable to bearer:

1. When it is expressed to be so payable; or
2. When it is payable to a person named therein or bearer; or
3. When it is payable to the order of a fictitious or nonexistent person, and such fact was known to the person making it so payable; or
4. When the name of the payee does not purport to be the name of any person; or
5. When the only or last indorsement is an indorsement in blank. [R. C. 1905, § 6311; 1899, ch. 113, § 9.]

§ 6895. Instrument need not follow language of chapter. The instrument need not follow the language of this chapter, but any terms are sufficient which clearly indicate an intention to conform to the requirements thereof. [R. C. 1905, § 6312; 1899, ch. 113, § 10.]

§ 6896. Where instrument is dated. Where the instrument or an acceptance or any indorsement thereon is dated, such date is deemed prima facie to be the true date of the making, drawing, acceptance or indorsement as the case may be. [R. C. 1905, § 6313; 1899, ch. 113, § 11.]

§ 6897. When instrument is not invalid. The instrument is not invalid for the reason only that it is ante-dated or post-dated, provided this is not done for an illegal or fraudulent purpose. The person to whom an instrument so dated is delivered acquires the title thereto as of the date of delivery. [R. C. 1905, § 6314; 1899, ch. 113, § 12.]

§ 6898. Undated instruments. Where an instrument expressed to be payable at a fixed period after date is issued undated, or where the acceptance of an instrument payable at a fixed period after sight is undated, any holder may insert therein the true date of issue or acceptance, and the instrument shall be payable accordingly. The insertion of a wrong date does not avoid the instrument in the hands of a subsequent holder in due course; but as to him, the date so inserted is to be regarded as the true date. [R. C. 1905, § 6315; 1899, ch. 113, § 13.]

Alteration of date to correct mistake. 32 L.R.A.(N.S.) 517.

§ 6899. Incomplete blank may be filled up. Where the instrument is wanting in any material particular, the person in possession thereof has a prima facie authority to complete it by filling up the blanks therein. And a signature on a blank paper delivered by the person making the signature in order that the paper may be converted into a negotiable instrument operates as prima facie authority to fill it up as such for any amount. In order, however, that any such instrument when completed, may be enforced against any person who became a party thereto prior to its completion, it must be filled up strictly in accordance with the authority given and within a reasonable time. But if such instrument, after completion, is negotiated to a holder in due course, it is valid and effectual for all purposes in accordance with the authority given and within a reasonable time. [R. C. 1905, § 6316; 1899, ch. 113, § 14.]

644. Right of an innocent payee to recover on a note signed in blank and intrusted to a third person, who exceeds his authority in filling up the blanks before delivery to the payee. 13 Am. Dec. 669.

§ 6900. When an incomplete instrument has not been delivered it will not, if completed and negotiated, be effectual, must be made either by or under the authority of the party making, drawing, accepting or indorsing, as the case may be, and in such case only, and not for the purpose of transferring the instrument to a party whose signature appears thereon. But when the instrument is in the hands of a holder in due course, a valid delivery thereof by all parties prior to him so as to make them liable thereon, a valid and intentional delivery by him is presumed until the contrary is proved. [R. C. 1905, § 6318; 1899, ch. 113, § 16.]

§ 6901. Incomplete negotiable instrument and as regards parties, and in such case only, and not for the purpose of transferring the instrument to a party whose signature appears thereon, a valid and intentional delivery thereof by all parties prior to him so as to make them liable thereon, a valid and intentional delivery by him is presumed until the contrary is proved. [R. C. 1905, § 6318; 1899, ch. 113, § 16.]

§ 6902. Ambiguous language. Where the language of the instrument is ambiguous, or there are omissions therein, the following rules of construction apply:

1. Where the sum payable is expressed in words and also in figures and there is a discrepancy between the two, the sum denoted by the words is the sum payable; but if the words are ambiguous or uncertain reference may be had to the figures to fix the amount.

2. Where the instrument provides for the payment of interest, without specifying the date from which interest is to run, the interest runs from the date of the instrument, and if the instrument is undated, from the issue thereof.

3. Where the instrument is not dated, it will be considered to be dated as of the time it was issued.

4. Where there is a conflict between the written and printed provisions of the instrument, the written provisions prevail.

5. Where the instrument is so ambiguous that there is doubt whether it is a bill or note, the holder may treat it as either at his election.

6. Where a signature is so placed upon the instrument that it is not clear in what capacity the person making the same intended to sign, he is to be deemed an indorser.

7. Where an instrument containing the words "I promise to pay" is signed by two or more persons, they are deemed to be jointly and severally liable thereon. [R. C. 1905, § 6319; 1899, ch. 113, § 17.]

§ 6903. Liability of signer. No person is liable on the instrument whose signature does not appear thereon, except as herein otherwise expressly accordance with the authority given and within a reasonable time. But if such instrument, after completion, is negotiated to a holder in due course, it is valid and effectual for all purposes in accordance with the authority given and within a reasonable time. [R. C. 1905, § 6316; 1899, ch. 113, § 14.]

644. Right of an innocent payee to recover on a note signed in blank and intrusted to a third person, who exceeds his authority in filling up the blanks before delivery to the payee. 13 Am. Dec. 669.

§ 6900. When an incomplete instrument has not been delivered it will not, if completed and negotiated, be effectual, must be made either by or under the authority of the party making, drawing, accepting or indorsing, as the case may be, and in such case only, and not for the purpose of transferring the instrument to a party whose signature appears thereon. But when the instrument is in the hands of a holder in due course, a valid delivery thereof by all parties prior to him so as to make them liable thereon, a valid and intentional delivery by him is presumed until the contrary is proved. [R. C. 1905, § 6318; 1899, ch. 113, § 16.]

§ 6901. Incomplete negotiable instrument and as regards parties, and in such case only, and not for the purpose of transferring the instrument to a party whose signature appears thereon, a valid and intentional delivery thereof by all parties prior to him so as to make them liable thereon, a valid and intentional delivery by him is presumed until the contrary is proved. [R. C. 1905, § 6318; 1899, ch. 113, § 16.]

§ 6902. Ambiguous language. Where the language of the instrument is ambiguous, or there are omissions therein, the following rules of construction apply:

1. Where the sum payable is expressed in words and also in figures and there is a discrepancy between the two, the sum denoted by the words is the sum payable; but if the words are ambiguous or uncertain reference may be had to the figures to fix the amount.

2. Where the instrument provides for the payment of interest, without specifying the date from which interest is to run, the interest runs from the date of the instrument, and if the instrument is undated, from the issue thereof.

3. Where the instrument is not dated, it will be considered to be dated as of the time it was issued.

4. Where there is a conflict between the written and printed provisions of the instrument, the written provisions prevail.

5. Where the instrument is so ambiguous that there is doubt whether it is a bill or note, the holder may treat it as either at his election.

6. Where a signature is so placed upon the instrument that it is not clear in what capacity the person making the same intended to sign, he is to be deemed an indorser.

7. Where an instrument containing the words "I promise to pay" is signed by two or more persons, they are deemed to be jointly and severally liable thereon. [R. C. 1905, § 6319; 1899, ch. 113, § 17.]

§ 6903. Liability of signer. No person is liable on the instrument whose signature does not appear thereon, except as herein otherwise expressly provided. But one who signs in a trade or assumed name will be liable to the same extent as if he had signed in his own name. [R. C. 1905, § 6320; 1899, ch. 113, § 18.]

§ 6904. Signature may be made by agent. The signature of any party may be made by a duly authorized agent. No particular form of appointment is necessary for this purpose; and the authority of the agent may be established as in other cases of agency. [R. C. 1905, § 6321; 1899, ch. 113, § 19.]

§ 6905. Additions to signatures. Where the instrument contains or a person adds to his signature words indicating that he signs for or on behalf of a principal, or in a representative capacity, he is not liable on the instrument if he was duly authorized; but the mere addition of words describing him as an agent, or as filling a representative character, without disclosing his principal, does not exempt him from personal liability. [R. C. 1905, § 6322; 1899, ch. 113, § 20.]

Liability of one who signs note as indorser adding words indicating representative capacity to his signature. 42 L.R.A.(N.S.) 25, 28, 32.

§ 6906. "Procuration." A signature by "procuration" operates as notice that the agent has but a limited authority to sign, and the principal is bound only in case the agent in so signing acted within the actual limits of his authority. [R. C. 1905, § 6323; 1899, ch. 113, § 21.]

§ 6907. Indorsement by corporation. The indorsement or assignment of the instrument by a corporation or by an infant passes the property therein, notwithstanding that from want of capacity the corporation or infant may incur no liability thereon. [R. C. 1905, § 6324; 1899, ch. 113, § 22.]

§ 6908. Forged signature. Where a signature is forged or made without authority of the person whose signature it purports to be, it is wholly inoperative, and no right to retain the instrument, or to give a discharge therefor, or to enforce payment thereof against any party thereto, can be acquired through or under such signature, unless the party, against whom it is sought to enforce such right, is precluded from setting up the forgery or want of authority. ARTICLE 2.—CONSIDERATION.

§ 6909. Consideration. Every negotiable instrument is deemed prima facie to have been issued for a valuable consideration; and every person whose signature appears thereon to have become a party thereto for value. [R. C. 1905, § 6326; 1899, ch. 113, § 24.]

§ 6914. Accommodation party. An accommodation party is one who has signed the instrument as maker, drawer, acceptor or indorser, without receiving value therefor, and for the purpose of lending his name to some other person. Such a person is liable on the instrument to a holder for value, notwithstanding such holder at the time of taking the instrument knew him to be only an accommodation party. [R. C. 1905, § 6331; 1899, ch. 113, § 29.]

ARTICLE 3.—NEGOTIATION.

§ 6915. Negotiation. An instrument is negotiated when it is transferred from one person to another in such manner as to constitute the transferee the holder thereof. If payable to bearer it is negotiated by delivery; if payable to order it is negotiated by the indorsement of the holder completed by delivery. [R. C. 1905, § 6332; 1899, ch. 113, § 30.]

§ 6916. Indorsements. The indorsement must be written on the instrument itself or upon a paper attached thereto. The signature of the indorser, without additional words, is a sufficient indorsement. [R. C. 1905, § 6333; 1899, ch. 113, § 31.]

Are conveyances by indorsers within statute as to fraudulent conveyances. 47 L.R.A.(N.S.) 321.

§ 6917. Indorsement of entire instrument. The indorsement must be an indorsement of the entire instrument. An indorsement, which purports to transfer to the indorsee a part only of the amount payable, or which purports to transfer the instrument to two or more indorsees severally, does not operate as a negotiation of the instrument. But where the instrument has been paid in part, it may be indorsed as to the residue. [R. C. 1905, § 6334; 1899, ch. 113, § 32.]

§ 6918. Special or blank indorsements. An indorsement may be either special or in blank; and it may also be either restrictive or qualified, or conditional. [R. C. 1905, § 6335; 1899, ch. 113, § 33.]

Transfer of title to note by indorsement in form of guaranty. 36 L.R.A. 232; 41 L.R.A.(N.S.) 1009.

§ 6919. Indorsement in blank. A special indorsement specifies the person to whom, or to whose order, the instrument is to be payable; and the indorsement of such indorsee is necessary to the further negotiation of the instrument. An indorsement in blank specifies no indorsee, and an instrument so indorsed is payable to bearer, and may be negotiated by delivery. [R. C. 1905, § 6336; 1899, ch. 113, § 34.]

§ 6920. May convert blank indorsement. The holder may convert a blank indorsement into a special indorsement by writing over the signature of the indorser in blank any contract consistent with the character of the indorsement. [R. C. 1905, § 6337; 1899, ch. 113, § 35.]

§ 6921. Restrictive indorsements. An indorsement is restrictive which either:

1. Prohibits the further negotiation of the instrument; or,
2. Constitutes the indorsee the agent of the indorser; or,
3. Vests the title in the indorsee in trust for or to the use of some other person. But the mere absence of words implying power to negotiate does not make an indorsement restrictive. [R. C. 1905, § 6338; 1899, ch. 113, § 36.]

§§ 6922-6933

§ 6922. Rights of indorsee to receive payment or to bring any action thereon.

1. To receive payment or to bring any action thereon.
2. To transfer his rights to another.
3. To authorize another to do so.

§ 6923. Qualified indorsement.

But all subsequent indorsements are qualified indorsements, unless the indorser adds words indicating that he intends to make the indorsement restrictive.

§ 6924. Conditional indorsement.

Where an indorsement is conditional, the instrument may be negotiated by delivery to any person to whom an instrument so indorsed is payable, or the proceeds thereof, subject to the rights of the indorser.

§ 6925. Payable to order.

Where an instrument is payable to the order of two or more payees or indorsees who are not partners, all must indorse, unless the one indorsing has authority to indorse for the others.

§ 6926. Indorsement as cashier.

Where an instrument is drawn or indorsed to a person as "cashier" or other fiscal officer of a bank or corporation, it is deemed prima facie to be payable to the bank or corporation of which he is such officer; and may be negotiated by either the indorsement of the bank or corporation or the indorsement of the officer.

§ 6927. Misspelled names.

Where the name of a payee or indorsee is wrongly designated or misspelled, he may indorse the instrument as therein described, adding, if he thinks fit, his proper signature.

§ 6928. Negative personal liability.

Where any person is under obligation to indorse in a representative capacity, he may indorse in such terms as to negative personal liability.

§ 6929. Indorsements after date of maturity.

Except where an indorsement bears date after the maturity of the instrument, every negotiation is deemed prima facie to have been effected before the instrument was overdue.

§ 6930. Presumption of indorsement.

Except where the contrary appears every indorsement is presumed prima facie to have been made at the place where the instrument is dated.

§ 6931. Restrictive indorsement.

An instrument negotiable in its origin continues to be negotiable until it has been restrictively indorsed or discharged by payment or otherwise.

§ 6932. Privilege of holder.

The holder may at any time strike out any indorsement which is not necessary to his title. The indorser whose indorsement confers upon the indorsee the right to receive payment or to bring any action thereon.

Where an indorsement is restrictive, the indorsee acquires only the title of the first indorsee.

A qualified indorsement constitutes the title to the instrument. It may be made by signature the words "without recourse" or any such words.

Such an indorsement does not impair the negotiable character of the instrument.

Where an indorsement is conditional, the instrument may be negotiated by delivery to any person to whom an instrument so indorsed is payable, or the proceeds thereof, subject to the rights of the indorser.

Where an instrument is payable to the order of two or more payees or indorsees who are not partners, all must indorse, unless the one indorsing has authority to indorse for the others.

Where an instrument is drawn or indorsed to a person as "cashier" or other fiscal officer of a bank or corporation, it is deemed prima facie to be payable to the bank or corporation of which he is such officer; and may be negotiated by either the indorsement of the bank or corporation or the indorsement of the officer.

Where the name of a payee or indorsee is wrongly designated or misspelled, he may indorse the instrument as therein described, adding, if he thinks fit, his proper signature.

Where any person is under obligation to indorse in a representative capacity, he may indorse in such terms as to negative personal liability.

Except where an indorsement bears date after the maturity of the instrument, every negotiation is deemed prima facie to have been effected before the instrument was overdue.

Except where the contrary appears every indorsement is presumed prima facie to have been made at the place where the instrument is dated.

An instrument negotiable in its origin continues to be negotiable until it has been restrictively indorsed or discharged by payment or otherwise.

The holder may at any time strike out any indorsement which is not necessary to his title. The indorser whose indorsement is struck out, and all indorsers subsequent to him, are thereby relieved from liability on the instrument. [R. C. 1905, § 6350; 1899, ch. 113, § 48.]

§ 6934. Transfers without indorsement. Where the holder of an instrument payable to his order transfers it for value without indorsing it, the transfer vests in the transferee such title as the transferrer had therein, and the transferee acquires, in addition, the right to have the indorsement of the transferrer. But for the purpose of determining whether the transferee is a holder in due course, the negotiation takes effect as of the time when the indorsement is actually made. [R. C. 1905, § 6351; 1899, ch. 113, § 49.]

§ 6935. May reissue instruments. When an instrument is negotiated back to a prior party, such party may, subject to the provisions of this chapter, reissue and further negotiate the same. But he is not entitled to enforce payment thereof against any intervening party to whom he was personally liable. [R. C. 1905, § 6352; 1899, ch. 113, § 50.]

ARTICLE 4.—RIGHTS OF THE HOLDER.

§ 6936. Holder of negotiable note may sue. The holder of a negotiable instrument may sue thereon in his own name; and payment to him in due course discharges the instrument. [R. C. 1905, § 6353; 1899, ch. 113, § 51.]

§ 6937. Holder of instrument. Conditions. A holder in due course is a holder who has taken the instrument under the following conditions:

1. That it is complete and regular upon its face.
 2. That he became the holder of it before it was overdue, and without notice that it had been previously dishonored, if such was the fact.
 3. That he took it in good faith and for value.
 4. That at the time it was negotiated to him he had no notice of any infirmity in the instrument or defect in the title of the person negotiating it.

§ 6938. Where instrument payable on demand. Where an instrument payable on demand is negotiated an unreasonable length of time after its issue, the holder is not deemed a holder in due course. [R. C. 1905, § 6355; 1899, ch. 113, § 53.]

Note which is payable on demand, and is purchased over a year after its date, will be considered to be overdue when so purchased. McAdam v. Grand Forks Mercantile Co., 24 N. D. 645, 47 L.R.A.(N.S.) 246, 140 N. W. 725.

§ 6939. Where transferee receives notice. Where the transferee receives notice of any infirmity in the instrument or defect in the title of the person negotiating the same before he has paid the full amount agreed to be paid therefor, he will be deemed a holder in due course only to the extent of the amount theretofore paid by him. [R. C. 1905, § 6356; 1899, ch. 113, § 54.]

§ 6944. Prima facie holder. Every holder is deemed prima facie to be a holder in due course; but when it is shown that the title of any person who has negotiated the instrument was defective, the burden is on the holder to prove that he or some other person under whom he claims acquired the title as a holder in due course. But the last mentioned rule does not apply in favor of a party who became bound on the instrument prior to the acquisition of such defective title. [R. C. 1905, § 6361; 1899, ch. 113, § 59.]

ARTICLE 5.—LIABILITIES OF PARTIES.

§ 6945. Maker of negotiable instruments. The maker of a negotiable instrument by making it engages that he will pay it according to its tenor; and admits the existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse. [R. C.
1905, § 6362; 1899, ch. 113, § 60.]
Proof of incorporation of payee of note is unnecessary in suit on note by indorsee.
Grover v. Muralt, 23 N. D. 576, 137 N. W. 830.
§ 6946. Drawer may limit his liability. The drawer by drawing the instrument admits the existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse; and engages that on due presentation the instrument will be accepted and paid, or both, according to its tenor, and that if it be dishonored, and the necessary proceedings on dishonor be duly taken, he will pay the amount thereof to the holder, or to any subsequent indorser who may be compelled to pay it. But the drawer may insert in the instrument an express stipulation negating or limiting his own liability to the holder. [R. C. 1905, § 6363; 1899, ch. 113, § 61.]

§ 6947. Admissions of acceptor. The acceptor by accepting the instrument engages that he will pay it according to the tenor of his acceptance; and admits:

1. The existence of the drawer, the genuineness of his signature, and his capacity and authority to draw the instrument; and,
2. The existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse. [R. C. 1905, § 6364; 1899, ch. 113, § 62.]

§ 6948. Effect of signature upon an instrument. A person placing his signature upon an instrument otherwise than as maker, drawer or acceptor is deemed to be an indorser, unless he clearly indicates by appropriate words his intention to be bound in some other capacity. [R. C. 1905, § 6365; 1899, ch. 113, § 63.]

§ 6949. Liability of indorser. When a person, not otherwise a party to an instrument, places thereon his signature in blank before delivery, he is liable as indorser in accordance with the following rules:

1. If the instrument is payable to the order of a third person, he is liable to the payee and to all subsequent parties.
2. If the instrument is payable to the order of the maker or drawer or is payable to bearer, he is liable to all parties subsequent to the maker or drawer.
3. If he signs for the accommodation of the payee, he is liable to all parties subsequent to the payee. [R. C. 1905, § 6366; 1899, ch. 113, § 64.]

In case of indorsement of demand note more than one year after its date indorsee can recover from indorser only consideration he has actually paid. McAdam v. Grand Forks Mercantile Co., 24 N. D. 645, 47 L.R.A. (N.S.) 246, 140 N. W. 725.

Although parties to note may be cosureties as to payee of note, yet if they are not such as between themselves contribution will not lie, under section 6686, Revised Codes. Harris v. Jones, 23 N. D. 488, 136 N. W. 1080.

2. That he has good title to it.
3. That all prior parties had capacity to contract.
4. That he has no knowledge of any fact which would impair the validity of the instrument or render it valueless.

But when the negotiation is by delivery only, the warranty extends in favor of no holder other than the immediate transferee. The provisions of subdivision 3 of this section do not apply to persons negotiating public or corporate securities, other than bills and notes. [R. C. 1905, § 6367; 1899, ch. 113, § 65.]

§ 6951. Indorsers without qualifications. Every indorser who indorses without qualification, warrants to all subsequent holders in due course:

1. The matters and things mentioned in subdivisions 1, 2 and 3 of the next preceding section; and,
2. That the instrument is at the time of his indorsement valid and subsisting.

And, in addition, he engages that on due presentment, it shall be accepted or paid, or both, as the case may be, according to its tenor, and that if it be dishonored and the necessary proceedings on dishonor be duly taken, he will pay the amount thereof to the holder, or to any subsequent indorser who may be compelled to pay it. [R. C. 1905, § 6368; 1899, ch. 113, § 66.]

[R. C. 1905, § 6392; 1899, ch. 113, § 90.]

§ 6976. Notice by agent. Notice of dishonor may be given by an agent either in his own name or in the name of any party entitled to give notice, whether that party be his principal or not. [R. C. 1905, § 6393; 1899, ch. 113, § 91.]

§ 6980. Misdescription does not vitiate. A written notice need not be signed and an insufficient written notice may be supplemented and validated by verbal communication. A misdescription of the instrument does not vitiate the notice unless the party to whom the notice is given is in fact misled thereby. [R. C. 1905, § 6397; 1899, ch. 113, § 95.]

§ 6981. Written or oral notice. The notice may be in writing or merely oral and may be given in any terms which sufficiently identify the instrument, and indicate that it has been dishonored by nonacceptance or nonpayment. It may in all cases be given by delivering it personally or through the mails. [R. C. 1905, § 6398; 1899, ch. 113, § 96.]

§ 6982. Notice of dishonor, to whom given. Notice of dishonor may be given either to the party himself or to his agent in that behalf. [R. C. 1905, § 6399; 1899, ch. 113, § 97.]

To whom should notice of protest or nonpayment be given after appointment of receiver, assignee or other representative of insolvent? 61 L.R.A. 900.

§ 6983. Notice to personal representative. When any party is dead, and his death is known to the party giving notice, the notice must be given to a personal representative, if there be one, and if with reasonable diligence he can be found. If there be no personal representative, notice may be sent to the last residence or last place of business of the deceased. [R. C. 1905, § 6400; 1899, ch. 113, § 98.]

§ 6984. In case of partners. Where the parties to be notified are partners notice to any one partner is notice to the firm, even though there has been a dissolution. [R. C. 1905, § 6401; 1899, ch. 113, § 99.]

§ 6985. Joint parties. Notice to joint parties who are not partners must be given to each of them, unless one of them has authority to receive such notice for the others. [R. C. 1905, § 6402; 1899, ch. 113, § 100.]

 notice to antecedent parties that the holder has after the dishonor. [R. C.

§ 6993. Notice must be sent to proper address. Where a party has added an address to his signature, notice of dishonor must be sent to that address; but if he has not given such address, then the notice must be sent as follows:

§ 6996. Definition of "waiver." A waiver of protest, whether in the case of a foreign bill of exchange or other negotiable instrument, is deemed to be a waiver not only of a formal protest, but also of presentment and notice of dishonor. [R. C. 1905, § 6413; 1899, ch. 113, § 111.]

§ 6997. Notice of dishonor, when dispensed with. Notice of dishonor is dispensed with when, after the exercise of reasonable diligence, it cannot be given to or does not reach the parties sought to be charged. [R. C. 1905, § 6414; 1899, ch. 113, § 112.]

§ 6998. Delay in giving notice. Delay in giving notice of dishonor is excused when the delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the holder and not imputable to his default, misconduct or negligence. When the cause of delay ceases to operate, notice must be given with reasonable diligence. [R. C. 1905, § 6415; 1899, ch. 113, § 113.]

§ 6999. When notice not required. Notice of dishonor is not required to be given to the drawer in either of the following cases:

1. Where the drawer and drawee are the same person.
2. Where the drawee is a fictitious person or a person not having capacity to contract.
3. Where the drawer is the person to whom the instrument is presented for payment.
4. Where the drawer has no right to expect or require that the drawee or acceptor will honor the instrument.
5. Where the drawer has countermanded payment. [R. C. 1905, § 6416; 1899, ch. 113, § 114.]

§ 7000. Notice not required to be given an indorser in certain cases. Notice of dishonor is not required to be given to an indorser in either of the following cases:

1. Where the drawee is a fictitious person or a person not having capacity to contract, and the indorser was aware of the fact at the time he indorsed the instrument.
2. Where the indorser is the person to whom the instrument is presented for payment.
3. Where the instrument was made or accepted for his accommodation. [R. C. 1905, § 6417; 1899, ch. 113, § 115.]

§ 7001. Nonacceptance. Where due notice of dishonor by nonacceptance has been given, notice of a subsequent dishonor by nonpayment is not necessary, unless in the meantime the instrument has been accepted. [R. C. 1905, § 6418; 1899, ch. 113, § 116.]

§ 7002. In case of omission. An omission to give notice of dishonor by nonacceptance does not prejudice the rights of a holder in due course subsequent to the omission. [R. C. 1905, § 6419; 1899, ch. 113, § 117.]

§ 7003. Protested for nonacceptance. Where any negotiable instrument has been dishonored it may be protested for nonacceptance or nonpayment as the case may be; but protest is not required, except in the case of foreign bills of exchange. [R. C. 1905, § 6420; 1899, ch. 113, § 118.]

ARTICLE 8.—DISCHARGE OF NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS.

§ 7004. When negotiable discharged. A negotiable instrument is discharged:

1. By payment in due course by or on behalf of the principal debtor.

§§ 7004-7009

2. By payment in due course by the party accommodated, where the instrument is made or accepted for accommodation.

3. By the intentional cancellation thereof by the holder.

4. By any other act which will discharge a simple contract for the payment of money.

5. When the principal debtor becomes the holder of the instrument at or after maturity in his own right. [R. C. 1905, § 6421; 1899, ch. 113, § 119.]

6. Obligation of party extinguished as in contract generally. Taylor v. Bank, 6 S. D. 511, 62 N. W. 99.

§ 7005. Discharged, secondarily. A person secondarily liable on the instrument discharges the instrument.

1. By any act which constitutes cancellation of his signature by the holder.

2. By the intentional payment made by a prior party.

3. By a release of the principal debtor, unless the holder's right of recourse is expressly reserved.

4. By a valid tender of payment made by a prior party.

5. By any agreement binding upon the holder to extend the time of payment, unless the holder's right to enforce the instrument, unless made expressly reserved. [R. C. 1905, § 6422; 1899, ch. 113, § 120.]

6. By any agreement to postpone the holder's right to enforce the instrument, unless made expressly reserved. [R. C. 1905, § 6422; 1899, ch. 113, § 120.]

7. By any agreement to postpone the holder's right to enforce the instrument, unless made expressly reserved. [R. C. 1905, § 6422; 1899, ch. 113, § 120.]

8. By any agreement to postpone the holder's right to enforce the instrument, unless made expressly reserved. [R. C. 1905, § 6422; 1899, ch. 113, § 120.]

9. By any agreement to postpone the holder's right to enforce the instrument, unless made expressly reserved. [R. C. 1905, § 6422; 1899, ch. 113, § 120.]

§ 7006. Secondarily liable. Where the instrument is paid by a party secondarily liable thereon, it is not discharged; but the party so paying it is remitted to his former rights as regards all prior parties, and he may strike out his own and all subsequent indorsements, and again negotiate the instrument, except:

1. Where it is payable to the order of a third person, and has been paid by the drawer; and,

2. Where it was made or accepted for accommodation, and has been paid by the party accommodated. [R. C. 1905, § 6423; 1899, ch. 113, § 121.]

§ 7007. Holder may renounce his rights. The holder may expressly renounce his rights against any party to the instrument, before, at or after its maturity. An absolute and unconditional renunciation of his rights against the principal debtor made at or after the maturity of the instrument discharges the instrument. But a renunciation does not affect the rights of a holder in due course without notice. A renunciation must be in writing, unless the instrument is delivered up to the person primarily liable thereon. [R. C. 1905, § 6424; 1899, ch. 113, § 122.]

§ 7008. Cancellation. A cancellation made unintentionally, or under a mistake, or without the authority of the holder, is inoperative; but where an instrument or any signature thereon appears to have been cancelled the burden of proof lies on the party who alleges that the cancellation was made unintentionally, or under a mistake or without authority. [R. C. 1905, § 6425; 1899, ch. 113, § 123.]

§ 7009. Negotiable instruments, when altered. Where a negotiable instrument is materially altered without the assent of all parties liable thereon, it is avoided, except as against a party who has himself made, authorized or assented to the alteration and subsequent indorsers. But when an instrument has been materially altered and is in the hands of a holder in due course, not a party to the alteration, he may enforce payment thereof according to its original tenor. [R. C. 1905, § 6426; 1899, ch. 113, § 124.]

Erasure of a material part of note after delivery without consent of maker, if fraudulently done, extinguishes the note as a legal obligation and debt evidenced by it. First Nat. Bank v. Laughlin, 4 N. D. 391, 61 N. W. 473.

Duty of indorser, maker or surety to see that spaces on commercial paper are filled so as to prevent raising. 21 L.R.A.(N.S.) 402.

Alteration as affecting question whether commercial paper operates as payment of debt. 35 L.R.A.(N.S.) 76.

Erasure, marks and defects as putting purchaser of negotiable paper on inquiry. 29 L.R.A.(N.S.) 376.

§ 7010. Alterations or changes. Any alteration which changes:

1. The date.
2. The sum payable, either for principal or interest.
3. The time or place of payment.
4. The number or the relations of the parties.
5. The medium or currency in which payment is to be made.

Or which adds a place of payment where no place of payment is specified, or any other change or addition which alters the effect of the instrument in any respect, is a material alteration. [R. C. 1905, § 6427; 1899, ch. 113, § 125.]

Erasing or otherwise cancelling or obliterating a material provision without the substitution of new matter. 32 L.R.A.(N.S.) 519.

Change to correct a mistake in designation of party. 31 L.R.A.(N.S.) 127.

Alteration by insertion of interest clause in note. 2 L.R.A.(N.S.) 217.

1. Alteration of date to correct mistake. 32 L.R.A.(N.S.) 517.

3. Materiality of alteration of instrument by inserting place of payment. 31 L.R.A.(N.S.) 643.

TITLE II.

BILLS OF EXCHANGE.

See also sections 7081-7125.

ARTICLE 1.—FORM AND INTERPRETATION.

§ 7011. Bill of exchange. Form and interpretation. A bill of exchange is an unconditional order in writing addressed by one person to another, signed by the person giving it, requiring the person to whom it is addressed to pay on demand or at a fixed or determinable future time a sum certain in money to order or to bearer. [R. C. 1905, § 6428; 1899, ch. 113, § 126.]

See section 7081.

§ 7012. Does not operate as an assignment. A bill of itself does not operate as an assignment of the funds in the hands of the drawee available for the payment thereof and the drawee is not liable on the bill unless and until he accepts the same. [R. C. 1905, § 6429; 1899, ch. 113, § 127.]

Detention of bill of exchange or check by drawee as acceptance thereof. 17 L.R.A.(N.S.) 1266.

§ 7013. Joint drawees. A bill may be addressed to two or more drawees jointly, whether they are partners or not; but not to two or more drawees in the alternative or in succession. [R. C. 1905, § 6430; 1899, ch. 113, § 128.]

§ 7014. Inland or foreign bill. An inland bill of exchange is a bill which is, or on its face purports to be both drawn and payable within this state. Any other bill is a foreign bill. Unless the contrary appears on the face of the bill, the holder may treat it as an inland bill. [R. C. 1905, § 6431; 1899, ch. 113, § 129.]

§ 7015. Drawer and drawee. Where in a bill drawer and drawee are the same person, or where the drawee is a fictitious person, or a person not having capacity to contract, the holder may treat the instrument, at his option, either as a bill of exchange or a promissory note. [R. C. 1905, § 6432; 1899, ch. 113, § 130.]

 the bill; but the acceptance if given dates as of the day of presentation. [R. C.

 destroys the same, or refuses within twenty-four hours after such delivery, or within such other period as the holder may allow, to return the bill accepted or nonaccepted to the holder, he will be deemed to have accepted the same. [R. C. 1905, § 6439; 1899, ch. 113, § 137.]

May be accepted before being signed. A bill may be accepted before it has been signed by the drawer, or while otherwise incomplete, or when it is overdue, or after it has been dishonored by a previous refusal to accept, or by nonpayment. But when a bill payable after sight is dishonored by nonacceptance and the drawee subsequently accepts it, the holder, in the absence of any different agreement, is entitled to have the bill accepted as of the date of the first presentment. [R. C. 1905, § 6440; 1899, ch. 113, § 138.]

Acceptance, general or qualified. An acceptance is either general or qualified. A general acceptance assents without qualification to the order of the drawer. A qualified acceptance in express terms varies the effect of the bill as drawn. [R. C. 1905, § 6441; 1899, ch. 113, § 139.]

General acceptance. An acceptance to pay at a particular place is a general acceptance unless it expressly states that the bill is to be paid there only and not elsewhere. [R. C. 1905, § 6442; 1899, ch. 113, § 140.]

Qualified acceptance. An acceptance is qualified which is:
 1. Conditional, that is to say, which makes payment by the acceptor dependent on the fulfillment of a condition therein stated.
 2. Partial, that is to say, an acceptance to pay part only of the amount for which the bill is drawn.
 3. Local, that is to say, an acceptance to pay only at a particular place.
 4. Qualified as to time.

5. The acceptance of some one or more of the drawees, but not of all. [R. C. 1905, § 6443; 1899, ch. 113, § 141.]

Reference to consideration for draft as making acceptance conditional. 38 L.R.A. (N.S.) 747.

§ 7027. Holder may refuse qualified acceptance. The holder may refuse to take a qualified acceptance, and if he does not obtain an unqualified acceptance, he may treat the bill as dishonored by nonacceptance. Where a qualified acceptance is taken, the drawer and indorsers are discharged from liability on the bill, unless they have expressly or impliedly authorized the holder to take a qualified acceptance, or subsequently assent thereto. When the drawer or an indorser receives notice of a qualified acceptance, he must within a reasonable time express his dissent to the holder, or he will be deemed to have assented thereto. [R. C. 1905, § 6444; 1899, ch. 113, § 142.]

ARTICLE 3.—PRESENTMENT FOR ACCEPTANCE.

§ 7028. Acceptance, where made. Presentment for acceptance must be made:

1. Where the bill is payable after sight, or in any other case where presentment for acceptance is necessary in order to fix the maturity of the instrument; or,

2. Where the bill expressly stipulates that it shall be presented for acceptance; or,

3. Where the bill is drawn payable elsewhere than at the residence or place of business of the drawee.

In no other case is presentment for acceptance necessary in order to render any party to the bill liable. [R. C. 1905, § 6445; 1899, ch. 113, § 143.]

§ 7029. Holder must accept or negotiate. Except as herein otherwise provided, the holder of a bill which is required by the next preceding section to be presented for acceptance must either present it for acceptance or negotiate it within a reasonable time. If he fail to do so, the drawer and all indorsers are discharged. [R. C. 1905, § 6446; 1899, ch. 113, § 144.]

§ 7030. Presentment must be made at reasonable hour. Presentment for acceptance must be made by or on behalf of the holder at a reasonable hour, on a business day and before the bill is overdue, to the drawee or some person authorized to accept or refuse acceptance on his behalf; and:

1. Where a bill is addressed to two or more drawees who are not partners, presentment must be made to them all, unless one has authority to accept or refuse acceptance for all, in which case presentment may be made to him only.

2. Where the drawee is dead, presentment may be made to his personal representative.

3. Where the drawee has been adjudged a bankrupt or an insolvent or has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, presentment may be made to him or to his trustee or assignee. [R. C. 1905, § 6447; 1899, ch. 113, § 145.]

CHAPTER 112.

SALES AND ASSIGNMENTS.

The title of the act of 1913 constituting this chapter reads as follows: "An act to amend and re-enact chapter 221 of the Session Laws of North Dakota for 1907, entitled 'An act providing for the giving of notice by merchants to their creditors before making sale of their entire stock or business.'" Laws 1907, ch. 221, above mentioned, consisted of two sections, the first of which was evidently amended to make section 7224 here. The second section read as follows: "Present rule of evidence continued. Except as expressly provided in this act, nothing therein contained nor any act thereunder shall change or affect the present rules of evidence or the present presumptions of law."

§ 7224. Fraud to sell entire stock assignment, in bulk, of any part or merchandise and fixtures pertaining to the business of the seller, transferor or assignor of the seller, transferee or assignor, make a full detailed inventory of the sale, and purchaser, transferee or assignor, exercise of reasonable care in the purchase and assignor a written list of the seller, transferrer and assignor, and unless the purchaser, transferor or assignor, notify persons whose names and address are stated in the proposed sale and of the price, before taking possession of such goods, he shall be liable to the purchaser, transferee or assignor, for the full value of the goods, wares, merchandise and fixtures that have come into the possession by virtue of such sale.

§ 7225. Parties to whom this chapter applies. Sellers, transferrers and assignees, under this chapter, shall include corporations, associations, partnerships and individuals. But nothing contained in this chapter shall apply to sales by executors, administrators, receivers, trustees in bankruptcy or by any public officer under judicial process.

§ 7226. Accountability of purchaser, transferee or assignee, who shall, upon application of the assignor, become a receiver for all the goods, wares, merchandise and fixtures that have come into the possession by virtue of such sale.
